

Join us June 7-8, 2019

at the Jacob K. Javits Center in New York City

for the first ever

During the Expo, The Plantrician Project will be the official content provider
for the first ever

Food Solutions For Human Health Summit.

This unique CME event will provide in-depth exploration of the most up to date research that demonstrates the potential of a nutrient-dense, plant-based, whole foods diet to prevent, suspend and even reverse many of the diet related chronic diseases negatively impacting human health. The material will be presented without bias by medical experts and luminaries from around the country.

We hope you'll join us.
